

GRIT Graffiti Removal and Intervention Team program

Graffiti

- is a widespread problem within Glen Canyon NRA
- impairs visitors' enjoyment
- is carving into rocks
- is painting on walls
- is illegal
- is a finable offense

Glen Canyon NRA has developed the GRIT program in order to remove non-historical graffiti from rock faces and sandstone walls, and from shoreline areas within the park. Graffiti is removed using water and wire brushes.

There are two ways to participate in this volunteer program.

The first involves volunteering 5 days aboard a houseboat. Trips leave from either Bullfrog, Utah or Wahweap, Arizona. Destinations will vary on each trip. Crew members need to bring personal gear, breakfast and lunch for all days, and provide one dinner for all crew members on one night of the trip.

The second option is to participate in a Ranger led work group. Volunteers will meet at a pre-determined place and then go to a nearby shoreline area to remove graffiti. Work details will include areas that are accessible either by personal vessels or by land. These day projects are great for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, school groups, church groups, families, etc.

If you are interested in helping restore Glen Canyon NRA to its natural state please consider joining the GRIT team.
